Agreement

- Brand score is 21.2, below the threshold of 60, so branding-first mode is appropriate.
- Top branding recommendation is Value Proposition Canvas.
- Top marketing recommendation is Campus Interviews.
- Overall strategy: improve brand clarity first, then execute marketing experiments.

Differences

Order of branding experiments

Algorithm view: Value Proposition Canvas, then Brand Positioning Workshop, then Customer Persona Deep-Dive.

AI view: Value Proposition Canvas, then Brand Positioning Workshop, then Customer Persona Deep-Dive.

Recommended: Follow the ranked order: Value Proposition Canvas first, then Brand Positioning Workshop, then Customer Persona Deep-Dive.

Marketing experiment ranking

Algorithm view: Campus Interviews (0.95), Reddit/Forum Engagement (0.8628), Cold Outreach (0.7711).

AI view: Campus Interviews (0.95), Reddit/Forum Engagement (0.8628), Cold Outreach (0.7711).

Recommended: Execute in that order, but consider replacing Reddit with nonprofit-specific forums if Reddit is ineffective.

Risk awareness

Algorithm view: No explicit risks mentioned.

AI view: Solo founder may struggle with multiple experiments; nonprofit audience may be hard to reach via Reddit; budget limits paid experiments.

Recommended: Acknowledge risks: focus on one experiment at a time, target nonprofit-specific forums, and use zero-cost methods.

Roadmap

Brand Clarity Foundation - Days 1-3

Actions:

- Complete Value Proposition Canvas (1 day).
- Run Brand Positioning Workshop (2 days).

Success Metrics:

- Completed canvas with clear customer jobs, pains, gains.
- One-sentence value proposition articulated.

Audience Deep-Dive - Days 4-10

Actions:

- Conduct Customer Persona Deep-Dive: interview 10-15 nonprofit professionals.
- Synthesize findings into 2-3 personas.

Success Metrics:

- At least 10 interviews completed.
- Personas documented with quotes and pain points.

Marketing Validation - Days 11-20

Actions:

- Execute Campus Interviews (or equivalent for nonprofits) - 20-30 interviews.
- Engage in nonprofit-specific forums (e.g., Nonprofit Reddit, LinkedIn groups) for 3 days.

Success Metrics:

- At least 20 interviews completed with clear problem validation.
- Forum engagement yields at least 5 meaningful conversations.

Outreach & Iteration - Days 21-30

Actions:

- Send 50 personalized cold emails/DMs to nonprofit decision-makers.
- Analyze all feedback and refine value proposition.

Success Metrics:

- Reply rate >10% (at least 5 replies).
- Updated value proposition based on feedback.

AI Recommendations

Branding

Value Proposition Canvas (score: 0.7422)

Fastest way to check if your product solves a real problem; one day of work prevents wasted marketing.

Brand Positioning Workshop (score: 0.6522)

Forces articulation of value proposition in one sentence; clarity is fastest validation.

Customer Persona Deep-Dive (score: 0.6467)

Direct conversations with real users provide highest validation; personas sharpen all future experiments.

Marketing

Campus Interviews (score: 0.95)

Direct conversations with target audience give clearest signal about problem realness at almost no cost.

Reddit/Forum Engagement (score: 0.8628)

Reddit communities are brutally honest; fast validation of solution usefulness.

Targeted Cold Outreach (score: 0.7711)

Zero cost, high signal; if you can't get replies, value proposition needs work.

Risks

- Solo founder may struggle to execute multiple experiments simultaneously within 30 days.
- Nonprofit audience may be harder to reach via Reddit; consider niche forums.
- Budget of $500 may limit paid experiments; focus on zero-cost methods first.

Founder Report

Your brand clarity score is 21.2, well below the 60 threshold, so we're starting with branding. The algorithm and AI agree on the top experiments: Value Proposition Canvas (1 day, free), Brand Positioning Workshop (2 days, free), and Customer Persona Deep-Dive (5 days, ~$100). These will boost your brand clarity by ~77 points combined, bringing you above 60. After that, run Campus Interviews (3 days, $50), Reddit/Forum Engagement (3 days, free), and Cold Outreach (5 days, free) to validate your audience. Key risks: as a solo founder, focus on one experiment at a time; nonprofit audiences may not be on Reddit, so consider niche forums like Nonprofit Tech for Good; your $500 budget is sufficient for zero-cost methods. Stick to the roadmap: Days 1-3 branding foundation, Days 4-10 audience deep-dive, Days 11-20 marketing validation, Days 21-30 outreach and iteration. Success metrics are clear: completed canvases, interviews, and reply rates. You've got this!
