AI Recommendations

Branding

Value Proposition Canvas (score: 0.7422)

Fastest way to check if your product actually solves a real problem; one day of honest work prevents weeks of wasted marketing.

Brand Positioning Workshop (score: 0.6522)

Forces you to articulate your value proposition in one sentence; clarity is the fastest form of validation.

Customer Persona Deep-Dive (score: 0.6467)

Direct conversations with real humans are the single highest-validation activity; personas make every future experiment sharper.

Marketing

Campus Interviews (score: 0.875)

Direct conversations with real students give the clearest signal about whether the problem is real, at almost no cost - before spending anything on ads.

Beta Waitlist Campaign (score: 0.8214)

A waitlist with 0 sign-ups is devastating but honest - it tells you people don't care before you spend months building.

Reddit/Forum Engagement (score: 0.7878)

Reddit communities are brutally honest - if your solution is genuinely useful, you'll know fast. If it's not, you'll know even faster.

Risks

- This fallback does not include independent AI reasoning.
- Use Hugging Face before final founder-facing recommendations.

The deterministic engine selected 'branding_first'. The AI output selected 'branding_first'. The founder should prioritize the roadmap above because it respects hard constraints first, then uses AI reasoning to explain tradeoffs and next actions.
